

How close are numeric predictions, on log scale?

